

November 7, 2011

Engel & Völkers Has Closed 7 Units in Bradenton Beach

Real estate firm Engel & Völkers Florida is proud to announce its franchisee in Anna Maria Island closed seven units at a luxury development called South Beach Village.

Nestled near the Gulf Coast of Mexico, Holmes Beach is one of the largest of three island communities on Anna Maria Island. The development closed for $2.8 million.

The spectacular oceanfront units come equipped with custom cherry kitchen cabinets, granite counter tops with stainless steel, ten foot ceilings, and all dining areas have either a walk out balcony or bay windows to see the pristine waters of the Gulf.

In addition, the units have a 2 car garage, fenced-in back yard with a community pool, and are fully furnished.

The real estate market in Florida has proven to be on the rise again and this sale is evident of it.

<http://bradenton.patch.com/announcements/engel-vlkers-has-closed-7-units-in-bradenton-beach> 7