

June 8, 2011

Don King home sells for $15.9M

Don King's home in Manalapan

Legendary boxing promoter Don King's Manalapan home has been sold for $15.9 million, in the largest sale this year in Manalapan. The home, which includes a tennis court and two pools, was on the market for 45 days. King was represented by Jack Elkins in the sale to an as-yet-unnamed buyer. Christian Angle Real Estate represented the buyer. "The real estate market in Manalapan continues to move in a positive direction," Elkins said. "The closing of this listing in such a short period of time is one of the first signs that buyers internationally and locally have the money and are only waiting for the home they desire to come on the market." [Palm Beach Post]