XL TECHNOLOGIES, LLC ESTABLISHES APPROVED SUPPLIER RELATIONSHIP WITH MASTER LICENSE PARTNER OF GLOBAL REAL ESTATE COMPANY, ENGEL & VÖLKERS

SARASOTA, Fla., November 19, 2009 - XL Technologies, LLC, a developer of web-based software applications for the real estate industry, has been chosen to become an approved supplier of email marketing services to Engel & Voelkers Florida Residential, LLC (<http://www.engelvoelkers.com/florida>) with its flagship product eCampaignPro™ (<http://www.ecampaignpros.com>).

eCampaignPro™ enables real estate professionals to successfully promote listings, open houses, and recruit top producing agents through customizable, professional email flyers. As an approved supplier to Engel & Voelkers Florida Residential LLC, eCampaignPro™ will be readily available to supply email marketing services to their real estate franchisees across the state of Florida.

"As the leader in real estate email marketing, it is a privilege to share our services with a global leader in the industry like Engel & Völkers. They are time tested and still growing, which is a testament to their success as a firm," says Robert Dodd, co-founder and CEO of XL Technologies.

Engel & Völkers opened its first office in 1977 in Hamburg, Germany, began expanding outside of Europe in 2000 and opened offices in the US in 2004. Engel & Voelkers Florida Residential, LLC is one of the leading service companies for residential and commercial real estate in the state of Florida. Their focus is on high-quality properties and on training employees to high qualification levels.

eCampaignPro™ provides subscribers with unlimited access to the most up-to-date list of more than 1.1 million registered real estate agents, over 100 customizable, professionally designed email flyers and a web-based dashboard for tracking vital campaign statistics in real time. In addition, eCampaignPro™ offers a listing syndication service, Twitter and Facebook capabilities and unlimited customer support.

"eCampaignPro™ continues to enjoy success because of the relationships we have forged with relevant leaders in the industry. Our future is only as strong as the relationships we keep and we will continue to seek out that excellence in ourselves and in our partners," says Dodd.

About XL Technologies
