

Article published Feb 18, 2008

Global magazine features local real estate

Looking for a home in Tuscany? How about a Swiss villa? Maybe you would prefer a mansion in Son Vida, on the coast of Spain's Bay of Palma? Or something closer to home, perhaps overlooking the "Sparkling Waters of Charlotte Harbor"?

GG: Global Guide Lifestyle, People & Real Estate has hit the newsstands on Florida's west coast, featuring all of those offerings and more.

And at $1.45 million, the Charlotte County property is a relative bargain.

Engel & Volkers Projektmarketing brought the slick European magazine to this area last fall. The publication, with articles about architecture in Abu Dhabi, baronial living and Angelina Jolie, features photo spreads of homes and estates listed by Engel & Volkers in Europe, Africa and the United States.

Engel & Volkers, a European real estate company that has made its way into the Florida and California markets, plans to feature Sarasota properties in coming issues.

It already lists properties in Naples, Bonita Springs, Marco Island and, of course, Punta Gorda.

-- Toni Whitt